

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A transmission-drive unit for a seat adjustment or a servo steering has a transmission housing; a driven shaft extending outwardly beyond the transmission housing; a driven wheel non rotatably arranged on the driven shaft; a supporting element which directly at least partially surrounds the driven shaft so that the driven wheel is supported against the supporting element by axial force action from outside.

106 F2T 6005200T